All over the internet we read....

- Council calling out ... No wipes in pipes
- Wet wipes clog Melbourne sewers
- Environmental damage when the blockages create sewage overflows into creeks, rivers and beaches.
- Wet wipes don't break down like toilet paper
- A massive 12-foot long clog of disposable wipes cost reported
- Fatbergs can cost millions to remove each year and cause sewage overflows.
- Each year, Sydney Water removes 500 tonnes of wipes from the network across the Illawarra, Blue Mountains and Sydney every year at a cost of $8 million per year.
- 300 kilograms, was removed by hand, one bucket at a time - Hunter Water Corporation spokesman Nick Kaiser
